

FRIENDS OF THE ANU CLASSICS MUSEUM

MID-WINTER DINNER

At Teatro Vivaldi, ANU Arts Centre, Union Square, Acton
Thursday 21st August 2014, at 7.00pm for 7.30

Cost: $60 pp for a classically inspired Greek banquet
(including a glass of wine, beer or soft drink on arrival)

Dr Greta Hawes will entertain us with a talk entitled, “How to feed a centaur”.

Greta joined the ANU as a lecturer in late 2013. She completed her PhD at the University of Bristol in 2011 with a thesis which looked at an undeservedly-obscure ancient tradition of mythic rationalisation. Her book on this topic was published with OUP earlier this year.

Places will be limited so please phone the restaurant on 6257 2718 for reservations and payment by Thursday 14th August. Allocations will be made to tables of 8 so there will be good opportunities for socialising.

The Committee would like to thank all Friends for their continuing support in helping us to maintain the museum as a free community and teaching facility.
